2011 GM K2500HD 4WD

DEF TANK SKID PLATE

OVERVIEW

GM's new DEF (Diesel Exhaust Fluid) tank on 2011 diesel model HD's is located behind the passenger side front tire hanging down below the bottom of the frame. This location makes the tank vulnerable to impacts from flying rocks and the potential of being crushed from offroad obstacles. Fabtech offers a 3/16" thick steel skid plate that protects the plastic DEF tank from these types of hazards ensuring puncture and dent resistance for trouble free offroad use. The skid plate is the full length of the tank with a front wrap for maximum protection and is finished in black powdercoat.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- Full length design protects front, bottom and sides of tank
- Frame mounted for rugged offroad use
- One piece 3/16" thick steel construction
- Easy bolt on installation
- Compatible with stock or aftermarket suspensions

INSTALLATION & TECH

- Estimated installation time - 45 mins
- Welding Required - No
- Cutting Required - No
